2. Had several conversations with [REDACTED] with regard to the [REDACTED] and the $2,000,000 stockpiling project. Emphasized to Jack that we were making every effort to obligate the funds in connection with the [REDACTED] and that if the Director desired that we not do so we should be advised without delay. I also advised him that we could obligate as much of the $2,000,000 stockpiling money as the DD/P area could save during Fiscal Year 1957, provided, however, the Director signed off on it without delay.

3. Mr. Dulles buzzed me concerning the recent publicity to the effect that the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors should renege on its "oral" agreement with us to provide sewerage facilities at Langley. I assured him that we had a "written" commitment on this matter. H

4. Talked to [REDACTED] research project which I now understand is to go before the Project Review Committee next Wednesday. John promised to send me a memorandum on the subject early tomorrow morning.

5. [REDACTED] was up to see me about [REDACTED]. He said that he did not have very much sympathy for [REDACTED] inasmuch as he had done very little to help himself since his return to the States, and, in fact, had continued to sit on his hands for an additional four weeks. On behalf of [REDACTED] he requested that some arrangements be made to remove [REDACTED] from the Division. I later talked to Gordon Stewart who has arranged to detail [REDACTED] to the FI Staff temporarily. 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a

Jack also wanted to alert me to the effect that [REDACTED] would be back in early July and would probably want to see me about our failure to promote [REDACTED]. 25X1A9a 25X1A9a

7. [REDACTED] was in to say goodbye prior to his departure for leave on the west coast. While he is there he expects to go to San Francisco and meet and talk with the people in the [REDACTED]. He also reported that he had had a very good meeting with [REDACTED] whom he felt had a clear understanding of the necessity for auditing their Project and said that there should be no further problems in this connection. He also reported that the audit of Project AQUATONE had been completed and that things had been found to be in very good shape. I asked him to deliver the original of the report to me and to make no other distribution of it with the exception of a copy to the Project personnel.
